Contributors

Richard Buchanan is professor of design at Carnegie Mellon University and a past President of the Design Research Society.

Carissa Kowalski Dougherty is a master's student in the department of art history at the University of Illinois at Chicago focusing on contemporary architectural theory and technology. As a staff member in the department of architecture and design at the Art Institute of Chicago, Ms. Dougherty has contributed to several exhibition catalogues including Chicago Architecture: Ten Visions (2004), 1945: Creativity and Crisis (2005), and Douglas Garofalo (2006). As a freelance writer/editor, she also pursues more journalistic projects; her most recent publication, Young Designers: Americas (daab, 2006), was released in June, 2006.

Hugh Dubberly is a partner in Dubberly Design Office in San Francisco—focusing on interaction and information design. Before that, he was Vice President for Design at AOL/Netscape and managed Apple Creative Services. He has taught design courses at Art Center, San Jose State University, IIT/ID, and Stanford.

Giampietro+Smith, founded by Rob Giampietro and Kevin Smith, is a design studio based in New York City focusing on cultural, editorial, and nonprofit projects. The work of Giampietro+Smith has won numerous awards including design distinctions from I.D. magazine, Print magazine, the Type Director's Club, and AIGA. Rob and Kevin are also professors of Communication Design at Parsons.

Annaleena Hakatie, MA, is a researcher at the School of Design in the University of Art and Design Helsinki. Her research interests focus on managing, leading, and organizing creative work; and new working procedures in networks. She previously worked both as a design consultant and in-house designer in industry. Publications: http://designresearch.uiah.fi/index.html?rootpage=90&subpage=1405

Igor Marjanović is director of the core design program and assistant professor at Iowa State University. Together with Katerina Rüedi Ray, he is principal of ReadyMade Studio, which is one of ten selected exhibitors in the Chicago Architecture: Ten Visions show at the Art Institute of Chicago. He has co-authored The Portfolio and Practical Experience (both from Architectural Press, Oxford).

Kristina Niedderer is a researcher and craft practitioner, who lives and works in the UK. She holds a Ph.D. in design, and was originally apprenticed as a goldsmith and silversmith in Germany. Since September 2005 she has been working as a post-doctoral researcher at the University of Hertfordshire, faculty of creative and cultural industries.

Chanpory Rith is a designer at MetaDesign, a design consultancy in San Francisco. He has worked on identity projects, web sites, and interactive software applications for clients including Adobe, Symantec, Yahoo, and PC World. He graduated from California College of the Arts with a BFA in Graphic Design.

Toni Ryynänen, MS, is a researcher at the school of design in the University of Art and Design Helsinki. He also is a postgraduate student at the University of Helsinki in the Department of Economics and Management. His main research interests are consumer culture and design representations in the context of mass communications and media. Publications: http://designresearch.uiah.fi/index?rootpage=90&subpage=934.

Dmitri Siegel is a designer and writer living in New York City. His writing has appeared in Emigre, dot dot dot, and Adbusters, and he publishes Ante, a journal of art and design. He teaches at the Art Center College of Design in the graduate criticism and theory program and is currently working on a history of feedback.

Fedja Vukiç, art historian got his Ph.D. in design theory at the University of Ljubljana, Slovenia and currently holds the position of a lecturer of design theory and history at the Graduate School of Design, Faculty of Architecture, University of Zagreb, Croatia. He was a research fellow of The Wolfsonian Foundation in Miami Beach in 1995. Vukic has published and edited several books on design theory and cultural history, including A Century of Croatian Design in 1996 and Zagreb, Modernity and the City in 2003.

Artemis Yagou, Ph.D., MA, is a design researcher and educator based in Athens, Greece. She teaches in the interdisciplinary MA course at AKTO art and design (private college), and pursues independent research into the history of Greek design. She has received a Design History Society 25th Anniversary Research Award for her project: "Between Scylla and Charybdis: Design Education in Interwar Greece 1922–1940".

Notes to Contributors

Authors should submit seven copies of each manuscript for consideration to the Editorial Board, Design Issues, School of Design, Carnegie Mellon University, 110 Margaret Morrison, Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890. Authors are advised to keep a copy of their manuscript as protection against loss in transit. A short biographical statement, including present affiliation and previous publications by the authors, is required. After accetance of the article author will be expected to send a computer file of the article.

Text Format

Manuscripts, including text, endnotes, long quotations, tables, illustrations and captions, should be typed double-spaced on one side of an 8½"x11" sheet of white paper (or foreign equivalent), with approximately 250 words per page and one-inch margins on all sides. The preferred length is a maximum of 5,000 words, or 20 pages, of text. Pages should be numbered consecutively, including separate pages following the text for endnotes and illustration captions.

If possible, the style of the manuscripts should conform to the Chicago Manual of Style, latest edition, published by the University of Chicago Press. Authors outside of the United States should use an equally standard style manual.

Endnotes

End notes should be numbered consecutively, and references to them indicated clearly by corresponding numbers in the text. Style should conform to footnote style in the Chicago Manual of Style or foreign equivalent.

The first mention of a particular work should appear fully cited; subsequent material should appear in shortened form.

Quotations from foreign language sources should be translated into English in the text; their original, if necessary, may appear in endnotes.

Illustrations

Photocopies of the illustrations should accompany the manuscripts. Illustrations should be marked on the back in soft pencil with the author's last name, figure number corresponding to position in the text and the list of illustrations, and an indication of the top of the illustration if there might be any questions.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission, whenever necessary and as required, for the reproduction of all illustrations or other materials.

Book Reviews

Book reviews are solicited by the Book Review Editor. The length of the review will be determined jointly by the Book Review Editor and the Editorial Board. Reviews should conform, if possible, to Chicago Manual of Style, and the editorial guidelines for articles mentioned above.

Persons interested in being considered as reviewers should send a current resume to the Book Review Editor.

Recent Books

Publishers should send recently published books and other materials for possible review to the Book Review Editor, Design Issues, Carnegie Mellon University, 110 Margaret Morrison, Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890.

Visual Projects

Design Issues invites submission of visual projects of a theoretical or experimental nature. The primary criteria for selection are that the work be provocative and of high visual quality. All work should be submitted in black and white. Photostats or photographs are preferred and should be 8"x10" black and white glossy. Slides will NOT be accepted. Work will be resized as necessary. Bleeds and crops will not be made unless specifically noted by the designer.

Visual material will be returned only if accompanied by a self-addressed envelope with the proper postage affixed.

Responses from Readers

Design Issues encourages written responses to articles and reviews, as well as comments on general or related issues. Letters should be limited to 1,500 words.

Letters that comment on articles and reviews will be sent to the author of the original article for response.